

HOW TO GET HERE- Our GPS co-ordinates are:

E 1.39249

N 44.65575

Driving from the French ferry ports : 8-10 hours.

- Take the A20 Auto Route southbound towards Toulouse, take the exit 56, follow the signs towards Frayssinet and St Germain (Du Bel Air). You will reach a crossroads, turn left onto the N20 (now re-numbered D820) and after a short distance you will see a turning on your right signposted St Germain-du-Bel-Air, take this road, continue through the village of St Germain-du-Bel-Air on the D2, coming eventually to a T Junction, turn right, go past the garage and on your right you will see L'Escale de Concores (a bar), take the turning just past here on the left signposted Beauregard, proceed down here over the little bridge and Le Muguet can be found on the left after the small Chateau.

From Toulouse Airport

- Follow the signs to Toulouse centre, then the A62 Auto Route towards Bordeaux, at junction 10 of the A62 you change to the A20 towards Montauban, keep on this road in the direction of Cahors and Brive. After Cahors take the exit 56 and follow the directions listed for driving from the ferry ports.

From Rodez Airport

- Turn left out of the airport and take the N140 towards Decazeville, then Figeac and then Cahors and when the road splits take the road to Gourdon. follow the directions from exit 56 as per driving from the ferry ports.

From Bergerac Airport

- Turn right out of the airport and then right again onto the N21 then go to the roundabout and take the first exit, keep following the signs to Sarlat (the road number changes many times from D25/D28/D29) if you follow the Dordogne River and the signs for Sarlat, you should not go wrong. At Beynac-et-Cazenac continue on the D703 (do not go towards Sarlat) towards LaRoque-Gageac. Go through LaRoque-Gageac and at Carsac-Aillac take the D704 towards Gourdon. Once on the outskirts of Gourdon pick up the D673 towards Cazals and then change to the D12 towards Concores and St Denis-Catus. On entering the village of Concores, you will see a turning on your right signposted Beauregard, proceed down here over the little bridge and Le Muguet can be found on the left next after the small Chateau.
